Warning:

These are JOKES. They are neither tasteful nor nice nor politically correct nor puritanical.....

Only read them if you are an adult and like humour.

So, if you are a prude, from Bern, American, a phys.ed. teacher, under 18 or work for M. do not read them!(Do you feel offended? Then you definitely are on the wrong page!)

A Briton, a Frenchman and a Russian are viewing a painting of Adam and Eve strolling in the Garden of Eden.

"Look at their reserve, their calm," muses the Brit. "They must be British."

"Nonsense," the Frenchman disagrees. "They're naked, and so beautiful. Clearly, they are French."

"No clothes, no shelter," the Russian points out, "they have only an apple to eat, and they're being told this is paradise. They are Russian."

A girl brings her fiancé to meet her parents.

"So, what are your plans?" the father asks the fiancé. "I am a scholar," he replies.

"Admirable," the father says. "But what will you do to provide nice house for my daughter to live in?" "I will study," the young man replies, "and God will provide for us."

"And how will you buy her an engagement ring, such as she deserves?" asks the father. "I will concentrate on my studies," the young man, replies "God,will provide for us."

"And children?" asks the father. "How will you support children?" "Don't worry, sir, God will provide," replies the fiancé,

The conversation proceeds like this, with the young man insisting that God will provide.

Later, the mother asks, "So? What do you think?"

The father answers, "He has no job and no plans, but the good news is he thinks I'm God!'

Why God Does Not Have A Ph.D.:

1. He had only one major publication.
2. It was in Hebrew.
3. It had no references.
4. It was not published in a refereed journal.
5. Some even doubt He wrote it by Himself.
6. It may be true that He created the world, but what has he done since then?
7. His cooperative efforts have been quite limited.
8. The scientific community has had a hard time replicating His results.
9. He never applied to the ethics board for permission to use human subjects.
10. When one experiment went awry, He tried to cover it by drowning His subjects.
11. When subjects did not behave as predicted, He deleted them from the sample.
12. He rarely came to class, just told students to read the book.
13. Some say he had His Son teach class.
14. He expelled his first two students for learning.
15. Although there were only ten requirements, most of His students failed His tests.
16. His office hours were infrequent and usually held on a mountain top.

Subject: Low Brow Hi Tech

I have often mused that our use of technology may eventually reach a moment when we lose sight of tech's original purpose as a handy tool for communication -- and instead find ourselves floundering in a critical mass of too much tech. The story below might serve as a cautionary tale for such an eventuality:

Three men are sitting naked in the sauna. Suddenly there is a beeping sound. The first man presses his forearm and the beeping stops. The others look at him questioningly.

"That's my pager," he says. "I have a microchip under the skin of my arm."

A few minutes later a phone rings. The second man lifts his palm to his ear. When he finishes he explains, "That's my mobile phone. I have a microchip in my hand."

The third man, feeling decidedly low-tech, steps out of the sauna. In a few minutes he returns with a piece of toilet paper extending from his rear. The others raise their eyebrows.

"I'm getting a Fax."

Subject: Inner Peace

Dear Friends:

I think I have found inner peace. I read an article that said the way to achieve inner peace is to finish things I had started.

Today I finished 2 bags of potato chips, a cherry pie, a couple of bottles of White Zin and a small box of chocolate candy. I feel better already.

May the leftovers be with you...

A very rich man prayed for years to be able to bring something with him into heaven. God decided to grant his request and told him when he died he could bring one thing from earth into heaven. When the man died, he tried getting through the Pearly Gates but was stopped by St. Peter, who said that nothing from earth would be allowed into heaven „But I have permission!! the man argued.

„Permission?" St. Peter asked. "I'm afraid I'm going to have to get that verified." So he made a call, then returned with a puzzled face and said, "You have permission! But do you mind if I ask you what was so important that you got special permission to bring it into heaven?" So the man opened the bag and showed St. Peter a sack of gold.

„Pavement?" St. Peter laughed. „You brought pavement?"

It's New York, late evening. Bob calls his girlfriend.

Hello darling, are you still up?

Yes, Bob. Nice of you to call. What's up?

I'm going to be flying tomorrow.

Oh. Hope you have a nice flight then.

I'm flying Swiss!

What?

I'm flying Swiss!

You mean you're flying to Switzerland.

Yeah, I'm flying Swiss to Switzerland!

Huh?

I have to go to Switzerland and take care of some business, so I'm flying Swiss.

Huh? What have you been smoking? How can you fly cheese? Frankly, Bob, you sound like you're flying already!

No, no. You got it all wrong. What I mean is: I'm flying Swiss to Unique.

WHAT!? YOU'RE FLYING SWISS TO UNIQUE?

Yeah ... you know ... the airport.

Whatever. But you sound very confused, Bob.

Well anyway, I'm flying tomorrow.

First class?

No.

Business?

Yeah, I already said I was taking care of some Swiss business.

No, no. Are you flying first or business?

Not worth it ... I'm flying Swiss economy to Unique.

WHAT!? YOU'RE FLYING SWISS ECONOMY TO UNIQUE?

Yes.

But I heard the Swiss economy was slowing down.

Not anymore. They have a new airline now.

What, the Swiss?

No, Swiss. And the airport's called Unique, and it's in Zurich.

Bob ... You're making me dizzy.

Listen. Tomorrow I fly Swiss economy to Unique, back on Friday. Okay?

But ... it sounds like you've lost your mind.

No I haven't. You see: The new name had to be unique.

You mean the airport?

No, the airline!

WHAT!???

The name of the airline had to be unique.

But Bob... I thought you said that was the new name for Zurich Airport.

What?

Unique. The airport.

Yes, it is. I suppose it's because the Swiss are a little unique themselves.

I know what you mean, Bob. I have a friend who is Swiss!

Not anymore. Before he was Swiss, but now he is an airline.

Very funny, Bob. But ... I thought the name of the Swiss national airline was

Swissair, right?

Yes. And no. You see they cut off the air.

But what did the passengers have to breathe?

No, no. They kept the oxygen, but cut off the air.

Huh?? Why??

Because they don't fly anymore. So they don't need the air.

I think I'm beginning to see. So, Swissair doesn't fly anymore, so they started a new airline called Swiss that flies to the airport they used to call Zurich Airport, but is now called Unique.

Yes, yes! You finally got it!

But does anybody else understand this mess with all these names?

Sure. They have top-shot communication experts there.

Are THEY Swiss? That would explain everything!

No, actually it was a Canadian who invented Swiss.

A CANADIAN INVENTED SWISS?

Yes. But he lives in London and he bought an island in Sweden.

You mean Switzerland?

No, Sweden. He bought an island in Sweden so he can live in isolation.

Alone? But why would he want to live isolated on an island?

Because of the Swiss.

You mean the airline?

No, the people. They hate the new design.

Why?

Because of Wallpaper.

WHAT!?? They pasted wallpaper over the all the planes!???

No, I mean Tyler Brûlé.

WHAT!?!??? THEY SMEARED SOME KIND OF VANILLA DESSERT OVER THE PLANES????

No, no. Tyler Brûlé is not a dessert.

So what is it?

It's not a what, it's a him: he's a designer.

That explains it.

What?

The new name for the Swiss airline.

Yes, you finally got the whole picture: Designers! Worse than lawyers!

But, wait! I just had a funny thought ... What would a pilot who works for Swiss say when he meets another pilot:

"Hello, I am from Swiss"? Yeah, and the other guy will probably try to correct his English: "You mean you're from Switzerland". But on the other, maybe he says "Hello, I'm Swiss", and the other pilot thinks the Swiss is an airline ...

But you said Swiss WAS an airline!!!

Yeah, that's right ...

You just lost me again, but thanks for the call, Bob. And have nice flight tomorrow.

Well, I hope the Tipp-Ex will be dry by then, or we'll never get off the ground!

WHAT??? GOODBYE, BOB!!!

A young boy went up to his father and asked him, "What is the difference between potentially and realistically?"

The father thought for a moment, then answered, "Go ask your mother if she would sleep with Robert Redford for a million dollars. Then ask your sister if she would sleep with Brad Pitt for a million dollars. Come back and tell me what you learn from that."

So the boy went to his mother and asked, "Would you sleep with Robert Redford for a million dollars? The mother replied, "Of course I would! I wouldn't pass up an opportunity like that."

The boy then went to his sister and asked, "Would you sleep with Brad Pitt for a million dollars?"

The girl replied, "Oh my God! I would just love to do that! I would be nuts to pass up that opportunity!"

The boy pondered that for a few days, then went back to his dad. His father asked him, "Did you find out the difference between potential and realistic?"

The boy replied, "Yes, sir. Potentially, we're sitting on two million dollars, but realistically, we're living with two sluts."

German scientists dug 50 meters down into the ground and discovered small pieces of copper. After studying these pieces for a long time, Germany announced that 25,000 years ago the ancient Germans had a nationwide telephone network. Naturally, the Russian government was not that easily impressed. They ordered their scientists to dig even deeper: 100 meters down they found small pieces of glass. They soon announced that 35,000 years ago, the ancient Russians already had a nationwide fiber network. American scientists were outraged. They dug 200 meters down into ground, but found absolutely nothing. They happily concluded that 55,000 years ago the ancient Americans had cellular telephones.

Subject: Quiz for Consultants!

QUIZ FOR CONSULTANTS

The following short quiz consists of 4 questions and tells whether you are qualified to be "consultants".

Scroll down for each answer. The questions are not that difficult.....

1. How do you put a giraffe into a refrigerator?

The correct answer is: Open the refrigerator, put in the giraffe and close the door.

This question tests whether you tend to do simple things in an overly complicated way.

2. How do you put an elephant into a refrigerator?

Wrong Answer: Open the refrigerator, put in the elephant and close the refrigerator.

Correct Answer: Open the refrigerator, take out the giraffe, put in the elephant and close the door. This tests your ability to think through the repercussions of your actions.

3. The Lion King is hosting an animal conference.

All the animals attend except one. Which animal does not attend?

Correct Answer: The Elephant. The Elephant is in the refrigerator. This tests your memory.

OK, even if you did not answer the first three questions correctly, you still have one more chance to show your abilities.

4. There is a river you must cross, but it is inhabited by crocodiles.

How do you manage it?

Correct Answer: You swim across. All the Crocodiles are attending the Animal Meeting. This tests whether you learn quickly from your mistakes.

According to Andersen Consulting Worldwide, around 90% of the professionals they tested got all questions wrong. But many preschoolers got several correct answers. Anderson Consulting says this conclusively disproves the theory that most professionals have the brains of a four year old.

How many women with PMS does it take to screw in a light bulb?
One.

ONE!! and do you know WHY it only takes ONE?

Because no one else in this house knows HOW to change a light bulb. They don't even know the bulb is BURNED OUT. They would sit in this house in the dark for THREE DAYS before they figured it OUT. And once they figured it out they wouldn't be able to find the lightbulbs despite the fact that they've been in the SAME CUPBOARD for the past SEVENTEEN YEARS.

But if they did, by some miracle, find the lightbulbs, TWO DAYS LATER the chair that they dragged from two rooms over to stand on to change the STUPID lightbulb would STILL BE IN THE SAME SPOT!!!! AND UNDERNEATH IT WOULD BE THE CRUMPLED WRAPPER THE STUPID #) @#! LIGHT BULBS CAME IN. WHY??? BECAUSE NO ONE IN THIS HOUSE EVER CARRIES OUT THE GARBAGE!!! IT'S A WONDER WE HAVEN'T ALL SUFFOCATED FROM THE PILES OF GARBAGE THAT ARE 12 FEET DEEP THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE HOUSE!! THE HOUSE!! THE HOUSE!! IT WOULD TAKE AN ARMY TO CLEAN THIS... that's how many.

Each man tells his story

Three men were standing in line to get into heaven one day. Apparently it had been a pretty busy day, though, so Peter had to tell the first one, "Heaven's getting pretty close to full today, and I've been asked to admit only people who have had particularly horrible deaths. So what's your story?"

So the first man replies: "Well, for a while I've suspected my wife has been cheating on me, so today I came home early to try to catch her red-handed. As I came into my 25th floor apartment, I could tell something was wrong, but all my searching around didn't reveal where this other guy could have been hiding. Finally, I went out to the balcony, and sure enough, there was this man hanging off the railing, 25 floors above ground!

By now I was really mad, so I started beating on him and kicking him, but wouldn't you know it, he wouldn't fall off. So finally I went back into my apartment and got a hammer and started hammering on his fingers. Of course, he couldn't stand that for long, so he let go and fell -- but even after 25 stories, he fell into the bushes, stunned but okay. I couldn't stand it anymore, so I ran into the kitchen, grabbed the fridge and threw it over the edge where it landed on him, killing him instantly. But all the stress and anger got to me, and I had a heart attack and died there on the balcony."

"That sounds like a pretty bad day to me," said Peter, "But I think your actions don't qualify you for admission. Who's next?"

The second man comes up and Peter explains to him about heaven being full, and again asks for his story. "It's been a very strange day. You see, I live on the 26th floor of my apartment building, and every morning I do my exercises out on my balcony. Well, this morning I must have slipped or something, because I fell over the edge. But I got lucky, and caught the railing of the balcony on the floor below me. I knew I couldn't hang on for very long, when suddenly this man burst out onto the balcony. I thought for sure I was saved, when he started beating on me and kicking me. I held on the best I could until he ran into the apartment and grabbed a hammer and started pounding on my hands. Finally I just let go, but again I got lucky and fell into the bushes below, stunned but all right. Just when I was thinking I was going to be okay, this refrigerator comes falling out of the sky and crushes me instantly, and now I'm here."

Peter had to concede that that sounded like a pretty horrible death, and let the man in.

The third man came to the front of the line, and again Peter explained that heaven was full and asked for his story.

"Picture this," says the third man, "I'm hiding inside a refrigerator..."

Then the electrical engineer was brought forward.

A man dies and wakes up in a beautiful place. "I've made it to Heaven," he thinks, "although I was pretty bad when, I was alive." He starts to enjoy himself.

After a few weeks, he's getting bored. He misses his poker buddies, he misses drinking with the guys. So he goes to an angel with his problem. The angel sends him to Saint Peter, who shows him the room where people are playing rummy and drinking beer. The man joins them, but it's just not like it used to be, it's too peaceful and quiet, with nobody fighting over the card games or getting drunk.

So he goes to God and says, „Look, it's really nice that you let me stay here, but really I don't deserve it. Maybe I should just go to hell where I belong, it's just too quiet and peaceful here."

The Lord looked at the man and said, "And where do, you think you are?"

English is a crazy language...

Let's face it, English is a crazy language! There is no egg in eggplant, no ham in hamburger, no apple or pine in pineapple. English muffins were not invented in England or French fries in France. Sweetmeats are candies while sweet breads (which are not sweet) are meats.

We take English for granted, but if we explore its paradoxes, we find that quicksand can work slowly, boxing rings are square and a guinea pig is neither a pig nor from Guinea.

Why is it that writers write, but fingers don't fing, grocers don't groce and hammers don't ham? If the plural of tooth is teeth, why isn't the plural of booth beeth? One goose, two geese. So one loose tooth, two leese teeth? One index, two indices? Doesn't it seem crazy that you can make amends, but not just one amend? That you comb through the annals of history, but not just a single annal? If you have a bunch of odds and ends and you get rid of all but one of them, what do you call it? If a teacher has taught, why hasn't a preacher praught? If a vegetarian eats vegetables, what does a humanitarian eat?

If you wrote a letter, perhaps you also bote your tongue? Sometimes I think all the English speakers should be committed to an asylum for the verbally insane. In what other language do people recite at a play and play at a recital? Ship by truck and send cargo by truck or ship? Have noses that run and feet that smell? Park on driveways and drive on parkways? Lift a thumb and thumb a lift?

How can a slim chance and a fat chance be the same, while a wise man and a wise guy are opposites? How can overlook and oversee be opposites, while quite a lot and quite a few are the same? How can a person be "pretty ugly"?

Have you noticed that we talk about certain things only when they are absent? Have you ever seen a horseful carriage or a strapful gown? Met a sung hero or experienced requited love? Have you ever run into someone who was combombulated, gruntled, ruly or peccable? And where are all those people who are spring chickens or would actually hurt a fly? Have you ever known someone that you would touch with a ten foot pole?

You have to marvel at the unique lunacy of a language in which your house can burn up as it burns down, in which you fill out a form by filling it in, and in which an alarm clock goes off by going on. Why is "crazy man" an insult, while to insert a comma and say "crazy, man" is a compliment?

English was invented by people, not computers, and it reflects the creativity of the human race (which, of course, isn't a race at all).

That is why when I wind up my watch, I start it, but when I wind up this essay, I end it.

A burglar broke into a house one night. He shone his flashlight around, looking for valuables, and when he picked up a CD player to place in his sack, a strange, disembodied voice echoed from the dark saying "Jesus is watching you." He nearly jumped out of his skin, clicked his flashlight out and froze.

When he heard nothing more after a bit, he shook his head, clicked the light back on and began searching for more valuables. Just as he pulled the stereo out so he could disconnect the wires, clear as a bell he heard, "Jesus is watching you." Freaked out, he shone his light around frantically, looking for the source of the voice. Finally, in the corner of the room, his flashlight beam came to rest on a parrot.

"Did you say that?" he hissed at the parrot.

"Yep," the parrot confessed, "I'm just trying to warn you."

The burglar relaxed. "Warn me, huh? Who the hell are you?"

"Moses," replied the bird.

"Moses" the burglar laughed. "What kind of stupid people would name a parrot Moses?"

"Probably the same kind of people that would name a rotweiller Jesus," the bird answered.

"No, not that."

"Oh, that's the elephant's tail."

"No, Mom. Down underneath."

She took a Kleenex from her purse and whipped the duck clean. After finishing, she urged the duck away saying, "Be careful next time!"

She walked on and another duck with shit all over it crossed her way. Again she took out a Kleenex and cleaned the little duck. She warned this one as well and the duck took off. Soon after, she encountered a third duck with the same problem. "Now I've had it!" She whined. "What have you all been doing?" And for the third time she played Florence Nightingale and tended the duck.

She continued her stroll when suddenly she heard a voice from the bushes. "Hey, you, lady!" sounded a male voice in distress.

"Yes?" she replied.

"Do you have a Kleenex?"

"No, not anymore," she answered.

"Too bad. I guess I'll just have to find another duck."

Little Johnny's dad is sitting on the side of the bed rolling on a condom about to give his wife some dalliance.

Little Johnny sticks his head in the door, sees his dad and asks, "Whatcha doin' daddy?"

Johnny's dad stoops over to cover up his dick and starts looking at the floor, "Oh, I'm just looking for this big rat I saw."

Little Johnny says, "Whatcha gonna do, fuck it?"

Here is a lost paragraph from the book of GENESIS:
So God asked Adam, "Why are you so unhappy?"

Adam said, "Because I don't have anyone to talk to".

God said that he was going to make Adam a companion and that it would be a woman.

God said, "This person will gather food for you, and when you discover clothing she'll wash it for you.

She will always agree with every decision you make. She will bear your children and never ask you to get up in the middle of the night to take care of them. She will not nag you and will always be the first to admit she was wrong when you've had a disagreement. She will never have a headache and will freely give you love and passion when ever you need it."

Adam asked God, "What will a woman like this cost?"

God replied, "An arm and a leg".

Then Adam asked, "What can I get for a rib?"

And the rest is history.

LIFE

Once over the hill, you pick up speed.

I love cooking with wine. Sometimes I even put it in the food.

If not for STRESS I'd have no energy at all.

Whatever hits the fan will not be evenly distributed.

Everyone has a photographic memory. Some just don't have film.

I know God won't give me more than I can handle. I just wish He didn't trust me so much.

You don't stop laughing because you grow old. You grow old because you stop laughing.

Dogs have owners. Cats have staff.

We cannot change the direction of the wind...but we can adjust our sails.

Do you believe in love at first sight...or should I walk by you again?

If the shoe fits...buy it in every color.

When life gives you scraps, make quilts.

I don't do drugs anymore 'cause I find I get the same effect just by standing up really fast.

I don't have a big ego, I'm way too cool for that.

Dyslexia means never having to say that you're yrros.

Regular naps prevent old age...especially if you take them while driving.

I have learned there is little difference in husbands, you might as well keep the first.

There are two sides to every divorce: Yours and dirtbag's.

Travel is very educational. I can now say "Kaopectate" in seven different languages.

I was on a date recently, and the guy took me horseback riding. That was kind of fun, until we ran out of quarters.

I married my husband for his looks, but not the ones he's been giving me lately!

On my first day of school my parents dropped me off at the wrong nursery. There I was... surrounded by trees and bushes.

The next time you feel like complaining, remember that your garbage disposal probably eats better than thirty percent of the people in this world.

The hardest years in life are those between ten and seventy.

 Helen Hayes (at 73)

I refuse to think of them as chin hairs.

I think of them as stray eyebrows.

 Janette Barber-

.....

Whoever thought up the word "Mammogram"? Every time I hear it, I think I'm supposed to put my breast in an envelope and send it to someone.

 Jan King-

.....

A few weeks after my surgery, I went out to play catch with my golden retriever. When I bent over to pick up the ball, my prosthesis fell out.

The dog snatched it, and I found myself chasing him down the road yelling "Hey, come back here with my breast!"

 Linda Ellerbee-
